

MATCH POINT

AN ELOQUENT RESPONSE TO THE CHANGING NEEDS OF THE LAIDBACK MODERN OFFICE, THE MIXO TABLE LENDS AN AIR OF WHIMSY AND SOPHISTICATION TO WORK ENVIRONMENTS EVERYWHERE.

THIS PICTURE: Equal parts elegance and utility, the Mixo Table, seen here in gold, is an indispensable addition in any home or office.

THIS PICTURE: Available in different sizes, the table's boldly graphic silhouette never fails to make a statement.

TOP: The Mixo Table series features two varying heights – medium, large, small and offset – to allow for a range of functions and requirements. Gold and copper colour will be available in the 1st quarter of 2018.

MIDDLE: Thoroughly customisable, one can opt to personalise the Mixo by adding one's name or a favourite quote via Bristol's complimentary engraving service.

BOTTOM: The option of a veneer tabletop gives this light, sculptural piece a touch of warmth.

When it comes to contemporary office furniture that works, it's safe to say that versatility is everything these days. Bearing that mind, it's little wonder that the Mixo Table is attracting its fair share of buzz. Despite its unassuming look and feel, this customisable design by Bristol emanates a larger than life vibe, making it terribly hard to overlook. Its pared-back simplicity is, in fact, one of its main selling points. Created in line with changing office and work attitudes, Mixo was designed to hold its own everywhere and anywhere, be it home, outdoor and work settings. A seamless marriage of style and utility, its deftly adaptable structure renders it more than ideal for a variety of different functions, chair and laptop table included.

Consisting of two stacked volumes that give way to a prominent platform, this Brutalist-inspired piece also calls attention to Bristol's feeling for detail through its flawlessly clean edges. This fervent focus on simplicity extends into its materiality – the Mixo utilises only one material for its base, paring down the carbon footprint incurred in its production. The choice of either recyclable mild steel or recycled post-consumer composite also sits well with Bristol's green agenda. To cap things off, Mixo's meticulous construction via laser cutting techniques and careful hand-assembly also culminate in parts that are a cinch to put together, making life that much easier.
