YS Yong

Managing Director & Chief Designer, Bristol Group of Companies

“We deliver effective solutions for the workplace. Whether it’s a home office, a corporate headquarters or a co-working space, our designs seamlessly combine form and function honed by our years of expertise and products which offer a high degree of customisation due to our on-site production capabilities. These solutions have been thoroughly thought out and tested rigorously so you can work better.”

Albott Studio

Bristol’s interdisciplinary Albott studio was established in 1990. Under the leadership of Founder Mr.Yong Yook Seng, a dedicated in-house Research and Development Division was formed to conduct studies in the field of ergonomic seating and systems design.

Today, this facility houses a team of 30 talented individuals, focusing on various aspects of product development, operating within a 20,000 sq ft facility which is equipped with the latest in scanning and measuring technologies, and a dedicated CNC machining center and compliance testing lab.

In Good Company

Since being established in 1983, Bristol has grown from trading in chair components to becoming a company adept at designing and producing quality office furniture. We have continued to evolve by using a mix of methodologies and our years of expertise in handling projects of various scales has made us the most preferred partner of designers across the region.

Widely recognized as one of Asia’s leading office furniture producers, our commitment to exceptional design values, innovation and sustainable practice has allowed us to expand across 6 countries in Asia.

Ginko.

The Ginko chair is a superb way to introduce stylish functionality and ergonomic comfort into interior spaces. As its name suggests, Ginko is inspired by the Ginkgo Biloba leaf and expresses a lightweight and flexible form that you can use in casual environments like workstation offices, meetings, and collaborative spaces as well as lecture halls, home offices, lobbies, and bars. The design is versatile and can adapt to both formal and casual spaces.

Ginko.

The Ginko chair is available in 16 varied configurations, with a stool and 3 backrest options, one which has padded armrests. Base options include the nylon fiberglass Ginko Base, the die-cast aluminium Talk base, and a 4 legged tubular steel base. The high stool uses the Ginko base with studs.

Ginko Base

Ginko's lightweight and flexible design offers mobility and versatility to suit modern office environments. It can be fitted to a 5 prong nylon plastic base with castors and available in grey version too.

Ginko Talk Base

The Ginko chair is a highly versatile and customizable chair. With the option of die cast aluminium base, it will never look out of place, whether in office or at home. The aluminium base comes in our standard colour powder coated form to match the optional grey plastic backrest and seat.

Ginko High Stool

As the chair is designed for a wide range of applications, there are various Ginko models available to meet different specifications. You can opt for just the stool or the backrest version, which comes with or without backpadding and armrests. The bases include a high stool variant with a tubular foot ring that adjusts up to 250mm height.

Ginko High Stool

The high stool makes your sitting a dynamic one; allowing freedom to move and shift between sitting, standing or perching, without having to leave the space. A gaslift lever at the bottom of the seat allows you to adjust the chair's height according to your preference. The medium backrest allows more flexibility to shift between sitting position and by moving more you will feel more energized.

Ginko Bar Stool

The bar stool version features a fixed round tubular footrest with a 85mm height adjustable seat. It's ideal for places like the bar counter or any high tables where you do not require too much height adjustment. The four legged configuration also allows easy access when cleaning the floor.
